

F-2006 00785

(b)(3)
(b)(6)

March 10, 2006

Central Intelligence Agency
Scott A. Koch
Information and Privacy Coordinator
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Koch:

Pursuant to the provisions of the Freedom of Information act, I respectfully request a copy of the intelligence assessment written by Paul Pillar two months before the U.S. invaded Iraq (see enclosed description). This assessment was previously requested by Mr. David Martin of CBS News.

I agree to pay up to $25 for costs associated with this noncommercial request.

Sincerely,

2006 MAR 22 PM 3:03

APPROVED FOR RELEASE ☐ DATE:
08-26-2010

PublicEye

- Public Eye Home
- Public Eye Blog
- E-mail Public Eye
- Send In A Tip
- About Public Eye

- XML Public Eye RSS Feed
- XML CBS News RSS Feeds

+ Add To Favorites

BROWSE TOPICS

- + Mega-Media Trends
- + Behind The Scenes
- + Media Issues
- + Outside Voices
- + Blog Buzz
- + 10 Plus 1
- + How It Works
- + CBS News Issues
- + All About Us
- + 4th Estate Debate

BROWSE AUTHORS

- + Vaughn Ververs
- + Brian Montopoli
- + Hillary Profit
- + Dick Meyer

BROWSE ARCHIVES

March
06
GO

Sun Mon Tue Wed Thu Fri Sat

			1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12	13	14	15	16	17	18
19	20	21	22	23	24	25
26	27	28	29	30	31

ABOUT THE BLOG

+ About The Blog Roll

media

CJR

Cyberjournalist

Editor & Publisher

The Editors Weblog

March 10, 2006

Next Post | Previous Post

David Martin Dispatch: Doing The Old Potomac Two-Step

Pentagon correspondent David Martin shares one of the better tales of a bureaucratic run-around you might ever hear from a network correspondent.

For the past several months, I've been trying to get my hands on a copy of an intelligence assessment written two months before the U.S. invaded Iraq which warned that unless American troops moved quickly to restore essential services and provide security they would be viewed as occupiers, not liberators. In other words, it predicted exactly what happened, but it was ignored by senior officials in the Bush administration who insisted right up to the day of the invasion that American troops would be greeted as liberators.

Normally, an intelligence assessment like that is a highly classified document but in this case I had been told that an unclassified version had been prepared by the CIA in the summer of 2003 in anticipation of releasing it publicly. So I called the CIA public affairs office and asked for a copy. The answer was that the assessment had been prepared by an organization called the National Intelligence Community. So I called the CIA public affairs office. They told me I would have to file a Freedom of Information Act request. I filed an FOIA. Last month, I received my response. It said that since the assessment was written in January of 2003 when the National Intelligence Council was still under the CIA, my request was being forwarded to the CIA. I was back where I started from. This week I received a response and they said they would get to mine. I'd call that a bureaucratic run-around.

At exactly the same time I was playing hide-the-memo with the Director of National Intelligence, the author of the assessment, a now retired CIA officer named Paul Pillar, was writing an article for Foreign Affairs magazine in which he said how the Bush administration had simply disregarded any pre-war intelligence which didn't fit their game plan. Before that article could be published it had to be reviewed by the CIA to make sure it didn't contain any classified information. Why did I get the run-around while Pillar was given permission to publish? Only the bureaucracy knows. Someday I'll get a response to my FOIA request. The document will no longer be newsworthy by then, but that's O.K. When Pillar's article is published, I'll be able to tell you exactly what happened.

Posted by Vaughn Ververs at 2:30 PM : March 10, 2006

Previous Post Behind The Scenes

E-mail this story

Printable version

Advertisement

CBSNEWS.COM

SPECIAL REPORT

THE LIFE & TIMES OF EDWARD R. MURROW

FIND OUT MORE

Advertisement

SPECIAL REPORT
THE LIFE & TIMES OF
EDWARD R. MURROW

EDITOR'S PICKS

E-Mailbag: Questions And Answers About Questions And Answers

When It Comes To Editorializing, Where Is The Line?

It's How You're Labeled, Not What You Say That Counts

Study Says Sunday Shows Have Conservative Bias

Cheney, The Sheriff And The Secret Service, Did CBS Misfire?

Questions On CBS' Coverage Of Shooting Incident

Wondering Why Those Olympics Highlights Can Be Hard To Find?

Looking At The Restrictions For The Games

Page Denied